WILLIAM L SCOTT NOT DYING.

A Washington dispatch published resterday said that William L. Scott was undoubtedly dying at his home in Eric, Penn. As he has been sick for several weeks, his friends in this city were slarmed by the positive assertion, chiefly because they had not received any direct news from him for a few days. In answer to inquiries that were made immediately, dispatches were received from a member of the family that at the moment Mr. Scott was out riding and that he certainly was not dying. ALFRED WILKINSON PUBLISHES A CARD

DENYING SOME FALSE AND IMPERTINENT RE-PORTS CONCERNING HIMSELF AND MISS

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 17 (Special).-Alfred Wilkinson who was formerly engaged to Miss Winnie Davis, the Daughter of the Confederacy," has been exceedingly annoyed by the reports that have emanated from various sources to the effect that the engagement was declared "off" by Miss Davis because of Mr Wilkinson's impecunious condition. He published card to-day which sets at rest this phase of the case at least. The card, which is addressed to a le "Having seen in your paper of yesterday a what long report from New-York in regard to the breaking of her engagement by Miss Davis, I take the liberty of asking you to correct some of the statements therein. What is said by Miss Davis is, of course, correct in every particular, but there are some suggestions at the end of the report in question that would be annoying to any one, were they not so absurd. She broke her engagement with me for personal reasons only, as she is reported to state, and it is ridiculous to suppose that political or financial reasons had anything to do with it. The imputation of any mercenary it unjust. Any one who knows Miss Davis, or who has ever known Mr. Davis, or any of his family. knows that by no possibility could they be influenced by a mercenary motive. I am certain that the sam true of all their intimate friends. Furthermore Miss Davis has known for a year or two, if no my circumstances have much improved. The burning of our house, though a serious loss, had nothing to do with her decision, for she had decided to terminate our with her decision, for she had decided to terminate our engagement before that happened. When a lady decides to break her engagement the gentleman has nothing to do but to submit, and I feel that any inquiry into Miss Davis's motives is impertment. My only reason, therefore, for this statement is the silly and unjust reports which have been circulated, some purporting to come from my friends, imputing to Miss Davis motives entirely foreign to one of her high birth and character."

AN UNUSUAL COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT.

The news that Clark University has just celebrated its first annual commencement, and the shock of surprise that comes from hearing of a commencement at this time of year, are explained by the fact that the new Worcester university has been started on a new principle. Among other innevations it proposes to have its commencements when its college year begins, and is thus unique and alone among the colleges of the earth. It is worst considering whether his investigated in the legislation of seminacements the investment of the seminacement when its college for the large the investment of the legislation of

SELECTIONS FROM THE MAIL REPUBLICAN CLUBS AND THE UNION TICKET.

To the Editor of The Tribune. sir: In "Notes of the Canvass" in to-day's Trib-une occurs the following:

A meeting of the Committee on Municipal Elections of the Republican Club will be held in the club-house to-night, when business of considerable importance will be discussed. This committee has endeavored to form a union of Republican clubs against the ticket indexed by the Republican County Committee.

I am certain that The Tribune means to report the news of the day with entire accuracy. As a member news of the day with entire accuracy. As a member of the committee referred to, I am in a position to i of the committee referred to, I am in a position to in-form you that the paragraph quoted above is incor-rect and does serious injustice to a committee, which has made a gallant, honorable and in every way praiseworthy fight to impress upon the regular organ-isation of the party the fact that the only way to build up the Republican party of this city is to make a straight fight for Republican principles and Republican candidates in every campaign. Whatever any indi-vidual member of the committee may have said or done, vidual member of the committee may have said or done, in his private capacity as a free and independent citisen, outside of the committee room, and without an thority from the committee, the committee itself. Republican clubs against an indorsement of the fusion the regular nominations have been made.

The committee remains uncompromisingly mitted to the principle, that the regular organization for the sake, not only of pure and good government here, but of the Republican party of the State and Nation, ought to make in every campaign a straight fight for Republican principles and Republican can-didates. We see no other way to build up the Republican party in this city permaneutly and solidly. Nevertheless, our fight has been to convince the Re publicans of the city in general, and the regular or ganization in particular, of the propriety of this po sition. And, while I am not authorized to voice officially the decisions of the committee, yet I know that many of its members believe, for the sake of the cause we hold most dear, that the regular nominations, now that they have been made, should be sustained. Allow me to say in closing, that the future of the Republican party in the State and Nation is dark indeed if those Republicans of Nev-York City who believe (both in local affairs and for the sake of the party at large in a straight light for our own party principles and candidates) are to be misrepresented in the leading newspaper of the party and denounced by public speakers like Mr. Choate as "sore heads" and "kickers," or if the regular organization fails to recognize the self-restraint and magnanimity with which the straight ticket men have so far acted. The quickest way to get a straight liepublican ticket put into the field in this campaign is to abuse and misrepresent the noblest Romans of them all, the straight Republicans of New-York City. Yours respectfully.

New-York, Oct. 16, 1890.

HENRY HALL.

TEN MINUTES IS THE LIMIT. To the Editor of The Tribune.

Sir: Will you kindly answer the following question at your earliest convenience! According to Chapter 262, Laws of New-York, approved May 2, 1890, called the "Ballot Reform Law," Section 26 says: "And no person shall remain in or occupy any such booth or compartment less than three minutes, and in no case longer than ten minutes, when all the other pooths or compartments are occupied." And by section 27: "A voter can obtain four full sets of

Can a voter occupy said booth or compartm the full time of ten minutes for the making up of one set of ballots? In other words can he according to law take forly minutes to record his vote if he wants to take full advantage of the law? This has been a cause of considerable disagreement, and your decision will be received with pleasure. JOHN ROY.

Brooklyn, Oct. 13, 1890.

(The number of ballets which are given to the voter by the inspectors does not affect in the slightest the time allowed for voting. The elector must remain in the booth at least three minutes, but not more than ten minutes are allowed him in which to decide upon the candidates for whom he wishes to vote, although he can obtain four differ ent sets of ballots.-Ed.)

WORK OF THE KINDERGARTEN ASSOCIATION To the Editor of The Tribune.

Sir: Last winter the New-York Kindergarten As-sociation was organized and started its first Kinder garten with great success at No. 351 East Fifty-thirdst. This year it begins work with two schools, th st. This year it begans work with two schools, the Associated Alummae of the Normal College having generously contributed funds for a school at Sixty-third-st. and First-ave., to be named after the asso-ciation. The membership of the association is steadily increasing, while the need for these schools in the crowded parts of the city is daily more evident. EARTHOUAKES AND EXECTRICITY.

From The Electrical World.

There is perhaps no more intresting and intricate subject for investigation than the marvellous electrical and magnotic phenomena that ocur about and within the surface of the earth. Marcellously complicated they are, yet prolonged study ha shown the intimate connection of many of them with the electromagnetic section of the sun. Still others, however, are not at all periodic in their character, and presumably depend largely on local catases. One of these is very sily discussed by Professor Mille. Popular opinion had for many years counted eletrical and magnetic disturbances as among the usual oncomitants of earthquakes. This idea has a scientifi foundation at least, and Professor Milline gives a considerable number of cases where earthquakes have ben immediately preceded or accompanied by unusualearth currents, sudden changes in magnetic inclination, dip, and even intensity, so marked in character as to attrect attention. So far as these phenomens are concerned there is nothing especially extraordinar. It is not difficult to imagine that in an intensely herogeneous magnetized body like the earth, sudden and violent internal sincks might change the magnetic distribution even by the preliminary strains that peede the actual teributed to mere mechanica distributes of From The Electrical World. the preliminary strains that procede the actual curthquake. Earth currents may perhaps be attributed to mere mechanics disturbance of the electrodes, or in more widely diraced effects to some energetic chemical action produced perhaps by volcanic causes. But to find the totential of the air falling sharply and becoming negative at the time of an earthquake is not to be accounted for by any direct and evident cause. The fact some well established by Processor Milne's own examination of the records, and in view of this even examination of the records, and in view of this even the more violate phenomena noted by some aid charges may perhap be credited.

how a casual phenomenon may be involved with the most occult operations of nature. In the many years during which the magnetic and electrical properties of the earth have been subjected to the closest serviny comparatively little has been subjected to the closest serviny comparatively little has been subjected to the closest serviny comparatively little has been flowed overard reaching the causes. A vast amount of information has been gained, but it is somewhat disconnected and has not yet been arrayed in any generally ascful form. It lacks the magnetic generalization that in the hands of Professor Ewing has cast a splendid food of light into the darket regions of magnetic science.

DINNER TO THE HEAD OF THE LOYAL LEGION.

St. Louis, Oct. 17 .- At the banquet tendered last evening by the Missouri Commandery to the Com-mander in Chief of the Loyal Legion, the toast "Our Guests" was responded to by Charles E. Pearce. Ex-President Hayes, in responding to the toast said that the last reunion of the old soldiers is the best. Every time we meet the bonds of comradeship are more closely woven between us, and we comprehend more fully the results of the conflict bught thirty years ago. That war was waged on the one side for the purpose of effecting a division of the States; on the other, to maintain Statehood.

At the end all knew that the Union was indestructible, that the infamous doctrine of traffic in men was a thing of the past, and that no State was greater than the United States. In Europe there is division, separation. Each country is ruled by a different government. To-day our country stands pre-eminently among the Nations of the world as one in purpose and aim. All the warring factions have been unified, solidified."

A WELL-KNOWN BOSTON ACTOR MISSING.

Boston, Oct. 17 (Special).-John B. Mason, the popular leading man of the Boston Museum, is no longer a member of that organization. Mr. Mason, who has been playing the part of Ham in "Little Em'ly," has not been in the cast since last Saturday night, and it is announced at the Museum that he has been discharged. His part has been assigned to Edgar L. Davenport. All sorts of stories were in circulation about the city to-day to the effect that Mr. Masen had cloped with a well-known actress. The truth seems to be that Mr. Mason was suddenly called to New-York on account of the serious illness of his He sent word to Manager Field, it is asserted, and hoped to return here before now, but has been unable to do so. Mr. Mason's absence makes necessary a postponement of the old comedy season, which had been a mounced to open next Monday night. Mason has been a member of the Boston Museum Company for several years, and some years ago h supported Edwin Booth. He was regarded at that also rector of St. Peter's Church, Portchester. They wanted Mr. Young to marry them, so came to the city and found him at work at headquarters doing his best for the People's ticket. He readily consented to their request, and prayer-book in hand, united the candidates for holy matrimony, according to the ritual of the Protestant Episcopai Church. The ceremony took place in Room 13, the press agents, Measrs. McDowell and Harrington, acting as witnesses. The certificate signed by the officiating minister shows that the newly married pair were Reginald Strang and Miss Mary McCarthy.

ALMOST INCREDIBLE IGNORANCE. From The Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

From The Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

A Portland lady secured a girl who was alleged to be a jewel, but proved of so deep an emerald into that she couldn't walk down stairs. She never had seen stairs in the land whence she came, and was seen by the mistress descending a fight on her knees, backward. This lady advances the idea that it would be well to elevate housework in the estimation of girls who must look forward to earning their own living by making it a part of the curriculum of our common schools.

MARRIED AT THE LEAGUE HEADQUARTERS.

The quarters of the People's League, in the Victoria Hotel Annex, always bright and attractive, were enlivened last evening by a marriage coremony. The bride and bridegroom are members of the flock of the Rev. Samuel W. Young, the executive accretary of the League, who is also rector of St. Peter's Church, Portchester. They wanted Mr. Young to marry them, so came to the city

OBITUARY.

ROBERT MCELRATH STREBEIGH. Robert McElrath Strebeigh died on Thursday evening at his home, No. 7 East Porty-fifth-st., from apoplexy. He was born in Williamsport, Penn., in 1826, and in the spring of 1843 came to New-York and secured a position as office-boy in the counting-room of The Tribune. It was not long before his business ability and sterling integrity were recognized by his associates and employers, and before he separated from the paper, in January, 1865, he had filled with distinction the position of chief of the advertisement department and secretary of The Tribune Association, and was a holder of stock in the association. At the time of his gizing Mr. Strebeigh, which was published in The Tribune on January 11, 1865. The original manu-

Tribune on January 11, 1865. The original manuscript, in Mr. Greeley's handwriting, was, a short time ago, presented to Mr. Strebeigh by one of his Tribune associates, and was hung in his library near his rading-desk only a few days before his death.

His business career covered a period of over twenty years with The Tribune and about five years as partner with George A. Leavitt, in the book-publishing business. On the morning of his death Mr. Strebeigh arose, feeing in better health and spirits than usual, and was stricken with apoplexy while passing from one room to another. He was found by one of his sons in an unconscious state, from which he never recovered. He leaves a wife, two sons and a daughter. The funeral services will be held at his home at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, and the burial will be at Woodlawn.

JOHN G. COTTE. John G. Cotte, a retired broker, died from Bright's disease, at his home, No. 166 Lefferts Place, Brook-lyn, on Thursday night. He was born in New-York City eighty-three years ago, and spent all his business life as a broker. He was a director of the Bower Pire Insurance Company and of the Butchers and Drovers' Bank. His wife, two sons and five daughters urvive him. The funeral will be held at his home on Sunday at 5 p. m. The Rev. Dr. John G. Bacchus of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Reformation, and the Rev. Dr. Edward A. Bradley, of St. Luke's Church, will officiate. The burial will be at Greenwood.

DR. CHAUNCEY EDWARD LOW. Dr. Chauncey Edward Low, a son of Josiah O. Low and a cousin of President Seth Low, of Columbia College, died suddenly at his summer home at Bay Shore. L. I., on Thursday. His winter home was at No. 175 temsen-st., Brooklyn. He was born in Brooklyn in 1851, and was educated at the Polytechnic Institute and Harvard College. He was a member of the firm of A. A. Low & Brothers until that firm dissolved, and then he entered the New-York Homoeopathic Medical College. Two years ago he graduated and became assistant professor of anatomy in the college. Dr. Low was a member of the board of trustees of the Brooklyn Homocopathic Hospital, and also a member of the Hamilton Club of Brooklyn. For a number of years he belonged to the choir of the Unitarian Church of the Saviour, in Pierrepont-st. His wife, who is a daughter of John W. Frothingham, and three children survive him. The arrangements for the funeral are not yet made.

Notice of the death of Clarence D. Mead, of Lake-port, Cal., on October 8, was published yesterday for the first time in this city. Mr. Mead was the youngest son of Frederick Mead, of the firm of Mead & Co., at No. 104 Water-st., one of the oldest tea merchants in this city. He was thirty-three years old. For a number of years he was a member of the Importer and Grocers' Exchange. About two years ago, on account of ill-health, he went to California and bought a ranch at Lakeport, where he was married a year sterward. He was extremely fond of the water, and on the morning of October 8 went out for a sail in a mall boat with a friend. A sudden squall capsized small boat with a friend. A sudden squair capsulous the boat, and although his friend was rescued, Mr. Mead was drowned. Itis body was not found until several days afterward. The funeral took place at Lakeport. Mr. Mead had many warm friends in New-York and was considered an enterprising business man. Itis only sister recently married E. A. Abbey, the Lakeport. Mr. ... York and was con only sister

STEPHEN A. CALDWELL.

Philadelphia, Oct. 17.—Stephen A. Caldwell, president of the Fidelity Trust Company of this city, dropped dead at his home this morning. His death was due to heart troubles, from which he had been a sufferer for some time post. Although he had the appearance of being in good health and was able to perform his duties up to year-training afternoon, he had several times been attacked with good health and was also been attacked with fainting spells which gave his family and his friends con-siderable slarm. He was a native of Massachusetts, and was sixty-cight years old. He was a director of the First National Bank. He was one of the receivers of the Reading Railroad, and was interested in all of the important plans respecting the reorganization of that great corpora-tion. Until a few months ago he was one of the Reading floard of Managers. He retired to make way for the new party in Reading which is represented by Thomas Dolan and Henry C. Gibson.

Mr. Caldwell was educated in the public schools of Newburyport, Mass., his native place, until he was twelve years old. Then he entered a shipping house. When he was nineteen years old he came to Philadelphia and en-gaged in the drygoods business until 1879. He had been president of the Fidelity Trust Company since 1875. He was a brother of the Rev. Dr. Samuel L. Caldwell, some time president of Vassar College. Mrs. Caldwell and two
